

Work Environment for Managers

Discussion document

This is how it works

If you are going to carry out work environment work as a natural part of your day-to-day activities, it is important for you, as managers, to have a dialogue about the work environment risks you can see and what you can do about them. This material can support you in this dialogue and can help you practically describe joint work environment risks and measures.

Every day

Work Environment for Managers is about identifying and managing work environment risks on a daily basis. To do this you need to be fully aware of what this involves and the situation your employees face. This will help you identify any joint work environment risks that you can work on together.

At all times

Work Environment for Managers is about adopting a preventative approach at all times. Work environment work has to become a natural part of the working day. This will help you identify any joint work environment risks that you can work on together.

When necessary

Work Environment for Managers is about preparing for any changes that will take place and managing the work environment risks they can present. To do this you need to look ahead. This will help you identify any joint work environment risks that you can work on together.

At any time

Work Environment for Managers is about being able to manage unpredictable work environment risks and act quickly, at any time. You need to have a high level of preparedness and a clear plan. This will help you identify any joint work environment risks that you can work on together.

Every day

– Managing work environment risks on a day-to-day basis.

What are the three main work environment risks that you need to manage every day?

1

2

3

Which three measures would be able to help you identify work environment risks every day?

1

2

3

At all times

– Adopting a preventative approach to work environment risks.

What are the three main work environment risks that you need to manage in a preventative way?

1

2

3

Which three measures would be able to help you identify work environment risks on a continual basis?

1

2

3

When necessary

Preparing yourself for work environment risks in the event of changes.

What are the three main work environment risks you face with any future changes?

1

2

3

Which three measures would be able to help you predict the work environment risks

1

2

3

At any time

– Being able to deal with unpredictable work environment risks.

What are the three main work environment risks that could occur at any time where you work?

1

2

3

Which three measures would be able to improve your preparedness for work environment risks that could occur at

1

2

3